The development is divided into 3 phases, all of them are unified under the concept Gardens of Eden.

Spanning 73 rai (33 acres), the development features a blend of residences, diverse facilities, and a wellness center.

Notably, 70% of the property is dedicated to lush, open spaces, including parks, walking paths, lakes, and gardens, ensuring a serene environment.

Gardens of Eden is Phuket's first project with its own park. Only 30% of the area is built up.

The park features a 3,5-kilometer walking path and covers approximately 5 hectares, achieved by placing road infrastructure underground and around the perimeter, leaving the central area open for landscaping. The gated and guarded property ensures privacy and security.
